Property Description

Tucked away in one of the areas more desirable villages, this enchanting pink-stone cottage has been restored with meticulous care, blending period charm with contemporary comfort. A pair of generous double bedrooms and two luxurious bathrooms sit alongside airy living spaces that unfold over two well-planned floors. Step through the heavy oak door into a sociable dining kitchen, where granite work surfaces sit above a classic York-brick tiled floor; nearby, a handy shower room (with discreet laundry facilities) serves the second bedroom.

A handcrafted oak staircase sweeps up to the first-floor reception room, its vaulted ceiling, rugged beams and log-burner creating a dramatic yet welcoming focal point. Afternoon light pours through twin double glazed sash windows, framing tranquil views of the south-westerly facing part walled garden below. Beyond the galleried landing lies the principal bedroom, another part vaulted retreat complete with exposed timbers and a sleek en-suite featuring both bath and separate shower.

Wooden flooring and oak internal doors are a feature together with modern contemporary radiators and double glazed windows.

Outside, a delightful fully enclosed and part walled private sun-trap garden filled with raised flowerbeds and thoughtfully placed patios that follow the day’s light. A single garage provides secure parking.

The village itself offers a shop, post office, primary school and friendly pub, while Harrogate’s vibrant centre—rich with boutiques, restaurants, acclaimed schools and leisure facilities—is only a short drive away. Excellent road and rail links place commuters within easy reach of regional hubs. Quite simply, this is a home that must be experienced in person to be fully appreciated.
